In the County Court of Dinwiddie County

Brownley Gdn. &c
vs
Wynns heirs

In Chancery

This day this cause came on to be further heard upon the papers formerly read and upon the Report of Commissioner Hargrave filed this day and was argued by Counsel upon consideration whereof it appearing to the Court that the said Robert H Wynn, if living, or his heirs, if he is dead, cannot be ascertained by the Commissioner and that the decree formerly made in this cause cannot be executed unless amended, the court doth adjudge and order ~~and decree that the same be modified~~ that the decree formerly made in this cause be amended so that advertisement by publication in one of the Newspapers published in the City of Petersburg be equivalent to personal service of Notice to said parties, and the Court doth further adjudge order and decree, that said Commissioner do proceed to distribute the said estate in manner and form as required by said decree, among such parties entitled to the same as may appear in pursuance of the Notice aforesaid or who may be known - and that said Commissioner do make Report to this Court with any matter specially stated deemed pertinent by himself or which either party may require to be so stated