Richmond Va.
Oct. 24th 1859.
To Charles C. Egerton Jr.
Genl. Comd'g Va. Ar.
Sir. In reply to yours of the 21st inst., I say at the earliest moment, that I do not consider the arms captured on Maryland or any other soil, by Maryland or any other troops, as belonging to the troops which captured them. I deem them the property of the criminals charged with using these arms unlawfully until they are convicted, and these arms will be subject to forfeiture
according to the judgment of the Court which tries

Governor Henry A. Wise to General Charles C. Egerton Jr., 24 October 1859

the persons accused.
The arms will then
become, I presume,
the property of the U. States or of the State of Virginia,
whose jurisdiction
and territory have been invaded by these persons. And if these persons are acquitted
the arms captured
belonging to them must be restored. They were placed in the arsenal at Harper's Ferry, and Col. Lee in command of the U. S. Marines, informed me that
after they were there placed for safe keeping

Some forty or fifty of rifles, and how many pistols he could not say, were taken without leave or authority by some of the Maryland troops. - These, thus taken, I beg leave
respectfully to say
should be restored to the ~~armory~~ Arsenal.

Very respectfully
Yours &c
